WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT JESSUP...

“WJU is serious about helping to meet the Church’s need for equipped and educated transformational leaders.”

- Dr. Jim Barstow, Senior Pastor,
Centerpoint Community Church,
Roseville, CA

“Great teachers and great leaders – something the world and the Church really needs.”

- Jodie Stevens,
KFIA 710 & KKFS “The FISH”

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

THANK YOU

On behalf of the Jessup University community, I want to extend to you our deepest thanks for your prayers and financial support. Because of your gifts, over 99% of our students receive scholarship assistance. Jessup graduates have 1/3 less debt than the national average, and last year almost 85% of our graduating students had a full time job or graduate school admission on the day they received their diplomas. We know that transformation is happening one student at a time, for the glory of God. Thank you for investing so much of the Savior’s love into our students. This report is a snapshot in time, of the video being made in the life of Jessup, and it is now part of your story as well.

John Jackson, Ph.D.

JESSUP: WHERE YOU BELONG...

After serving in the Air Force since the age of 18, I arrived at Jessup not understanding where I belonged in the world. If you're in a place where the Spirit of God dwells, He will speak to you. Through the anointing of professors and the humble hearts of those willing to mentor me, I found my path, continuing to serve my country through Public Policy. Veterans are used to doing scary and frightening things that no one else wants to do without any hesitation. Here at Jessup, we learn what it means to say that God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, love, and a sound mind.

“I love Jessup and Jessup loves me back...”

- Clarence Douglas, WJU Public Policy Major ('19)

JESSUP ONLINE

LAUNCHED AND EXPANDING

Celebrating a strategic alliance with Learning House, Inc., Jessup has entered the arena of online higher education and is slated for exponential growth, launching at least 20 new online degree courses in the next 7 years, beginning with 7 fully online degrees in 2018. In addition to online, Jessup will leverage Learning House's advancement courses to deliver graduate-level and non-credit continuing education courses for teachers. These online courses will further meet the needs of Jessup's growing student body and help keep transformative teachers in the classroom by delivering advancement options for working professionals.

“We're excited to partner with Learning House to develop a suite of innovative online programs and course offerings that provide an affordable, accessible pathway to learning, that adds tremendous value to students near and far.”

– Dr. John Jackson, University President

“We are excited to partner with Jessup to help them thrive and scale their program offerings and meet the needs of their current and prospective students and alumni in Northern California and across the nation.”

– Todd Zipper, President & CEO of Learning House

“The recognition of William Jessup by U.S. News & World Report in the 2019 rankings reflects the growing reputation of our academic programs. This has been clearly evident in the growth experienced this year in graduate and degree completion programs, and the launch of Jessup Online.”

– Guy Adams, Chief Enrollment Management Officer

COMPETITIVE DEGREES BY DESIGN

Adding to a growing list of competitive degrees, Jessup announces its first communications degree, led by broadcasting veteran Paul Robins. His 35-year media career includes Emmy Award-winning work on the Discovery Channel, PBS, and locally in San Francisco and Sacramento. Paul has anchored television newscasts for over 10 years, and hosted morning drive radio broadcasts in Sacramento, Detroit, and Dallas. Of the project, Robins states, "A digital world demands that universities today offer something beyond the traditional communications degree - a program that occupies the unique intersection of creative visual content and contemporary media channels that allow any individual to reach the world through a keystroke or the click of a mouse." WJU's Digital Communication & Design Degree combines these strategies with state-of-the-art technical skills in a single degree, equipping students with expertise to create attention-getting content that communicates to a modern audience.
