

Baldwin Chiu's Bio

Baldwin Chiu is the producer of the multi-award winning PBS film Far East Deep South. The film follows his family's testimony and miraculous discoveries leading to the lost history of Chinese families in the segregated South during the Chinese Exclusion era. Baldwin and his family have been featured on CBS, NBC, USA Today, NPR, and other major media outlets. Far East Deep South has been seen by nearly 2 million people, and he is currently on a national tour, which included a screening at the Museum of the Bible in DC. Baldwin is a member of the Screen Actors Guild, having been featured in films like The Matrix, Hulk, and The Pursuit of Happiness before moving behind the camera, where he graduated from the Act One film producing program.

Baldwin is also known as a hip-hop artist and beatboxer, and his emcee name is "Only Won." He is a member of the Gospel Music Association and Recording Academy who raps about unconventional subjects like dim sum, American history, thermodynamics and God. His album "Lyrical Engineer" chronicles his life as an engineer, recording artist, activist, and person of faith. He has been a featured speaker at numerous conferences, churches, and schools across the U.S.

Through his films, music and faith, Baldwin works to mentor artists and to foster better cross-cultural understanding to bring about racial reconciliation and healing.
