

Jim Jessup's Bio

Jim Jessup is the grandson of William Jessup, founder of San Jose Bible College in 1939, now William Jessup University in Rocklin, CA. WJU is a Christ-centered University with residential, on-line and evening programs available. Jim graduated from San Jose Bible College and was ordained into pastoral ministry in 1987. He received his master's degree from Lincoln Christian Seminary in Illinois in 1991. He served as a pastor for 14 years and since 2003 he has been the Director of Church Relations for William Jessup University. He speaks frequently in various Christ-centered churches, retreat gatherings and at Christian schools on the West Coast. He has been married to Liz since 1985 and has two grown children, both married with kids of their own which adds the title "grandpa" to Jim's bio.
