

Andrea Smit

Andrea Smit has been involved in visual and fine arts for over 30 years. While getting her B.A. in Interior Design, she interned with CBS Studios working on the sets of television shows and commercials. During the years she spent with the Foothills Theatre Company, she worked as a set dresser, scenic painter, props master, and assistant costumer. In addition to her work in the performing arts, she has enjoyed a career in commercial and residential design and event planning. She shares her passion for creativity and theatre by teaching classes in sets and props design at CYT Sacramento.
