After living in NYC, she moved back to CA to open her business, KD Studios, and to continue pursuing acting. As a performer, she was most recently seen in films on Netflix and Amazon Prime as well as onstage on the east coast as Sandra Bloom in BIG FISH and Rosamund in THE ROBBER BRIDEGROOM. Behind the scenes, she is a talent agent for Cast Images Talent Agency where she manages Northern and Southern CA actors and models. She spends a lot of her time managing, teaching, and mentoring actors and loves working with young artists and walking them through the ups and downs of the industry. She hopes to instill confidence into all of her students and to help them grow into people who believe in themselves, love others, and fiercely pursue their dreams.
