

Adjunct Professor – Arts & Science

Position Description

The School of Arts & Science is actively seeking qualified adjunct professors to teach in the History, Math, Business, and Humanities programs.

Applications for adjunct (temporary, part-time) positions are currently being accepted in order to create a pool of qualified candidates for both traditional on-site courses and/or online courses. The number of available positions varies from term to term. All persons recommended for employment must complete the required documents for employment. Applications for the Part-time Faculty Pool are accepted on an on-going basis

Minimum Requirements

- Master's degree in the designated field; doctoral degree preferred.
- Teaching experience preferred. Courses that need adjunct instructors may vary by semester.
